

Haulotte, worldwide manufacturer of lifting equipment, places its trust in HR Access

Paris, 2008 May 27th – The Haulotte Group, the specialist for people and material lifting equipment, has chosen the HRa Suite solution from international professional Human Resources Management software publisher and Human Resources Outsourcing service provider HR Access.

Worldwide manufacturer of lifting equipment for personnel and materials the Haulotte Group, leader in Europe and number 3 worldwide, continues to grow, with 5 factories in Europe. Through its network of 23 subsidiaries – covering over 100 countries – it provides fast, efficient, local service around the world.

To have a Human Resources Information System that lives up to its expectations in terms of administrative and payroll management, as well as time and activity management, Haulotte Group has made a forward-thinking choice in opting for an information system suitable not only for 'international' management but also for managing its fast-growing staff base – currently 1300 employees.

"HR Access's ability to accompany our group in deploying and developing it, both now and in the future, was decisive. The upgradeability of the solution, the consolidation, and the data sharing were key factors in the choice we've made," points out Julien Barry, Analysis Manager at Haulotte Group and HR Access HRIS project Director.

Through this project, the Haulotte Group is seeking to install a high-performance, user-friendly, ergonomic tool, capable of responding to rapid increases in staff numbers and employing a fast, reliable payroll engine, with truly integrated time and activities management.
